

THE HOTEL DRIARD
American and European Plans.
The First-Class Hotel of the World.
Free Bus from Boats and Trains.
C. A. HARRISON, Prop.

Victoria Daily Times.

43

TWO MEN PERISHED WHILE HUNTING

LOST THEIR LIVES BY CAPSIZING OF BOAT

Result of the Election in High River Still in Doubt—Fatalities in C. P. R. Yards.

(Associated Press)

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Details of a drowning fatality at High river, received by telegraph, the W. T. Francis, a companion lost their lives in the lake there while duck shooting. Francis was found dead with his hands still clenched on the upturned boat. The other body has not yet recovered.

A Recount.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 12.—The result of the election in High River is still in doubt. A recount is in progress here and eleven protest votes have been allowed so far. The Liberal secured seven and Conservatives four. The standing of the parties now is: Liberals, 23; Conservatives, 1; doubt, 1.

Fatality at Calgary.

Calgary, Nov. 12.—W. Henderson was killed in the C. P. R. yards here to-night.

Section Man Killed.

Brandon, Nov. 12.—A Galician section man named Ochita, working on the C. P. R. section here, was killed on Saturday night about 11 o'clock by being struck by a railway engine. This is the third fatal accident in the C. P. R. yards here this fall.

From the North.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Major Noble, of the gold commissioners' office in the Yukon, passed through here en route home, taking with him a set of golf sticks, the first used beyond Victoria.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Rev. Mr. King, pastor of the newly-formed African M. E. church, was stricken with paralysis of one side of his body, and was taken to his home in St. Paul, Minn., on Sunday.

Testing Natural Gas.

Medicine Hat, Nov. 12.—The C. P. R. is conducting a series of tests with a view of supplanting acetylene as a car illuminant and using natural gas from the wells here. The results are believed to be very satisfactory, the light from natural gas being much better. It is also a very safe illuminant.

Destroyed By Fire.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—The general store at Hartney, Man., of Frinkelman and Schaffer, with contents, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday, also the adjoining brick block occupied as restaurant and butcher shop. The insurance is $6,000; loss much heavier.

ANTI-TARTAR CAMPAIGN.

Armenian Committee Alleged to Be Responsible For the Recent Outbreaks.

Ellis, Nov. 13.—Reports from Shusha and other towns indicate that the Tartars are machinations in ascribing the collisions which have taken place to the activity of the Armenian committees. It is noticeable that at Baku the general opinion of non-Armenians, whether Russians or foreigners, inclines to hold the Armenians responsible for the outbreak and for the continuance of hostilities. Since the beginning of these outbreaks in February last the Tartars have everywhere and always explained the situation as being created by the aggressions of the Armenian committees and the anti-Tartar campaign conducted not only in the Armenian press, but also in every considerable section of the Russian press which they are able to influence.

Shortly after the outbreak at Nakchivan, the Armenian revolutionary committee known as Dashnaktschian, whose organ, the Drosak, published a proclamation warning the Tartars that if they persisted in attacking the Armenians, the latter would take vigorous measures to defend themselves and punish the Tartars. In a Russian translation of the answer to this proclamation issued by the Musseman religious brotherhood, it is affirmed that the charges against the Tartars are wholly false, inasmuch as "it is no secret for all the world that the collisions both at Baku and at Nakchivan were caused by you Armenians, or rather by the Armenian committees, the intellectual instigators of all the lawless deeds done by the Armenians."

With regard to the press campaign conducted by the Armenians, the Tartars express themselves with considerable bitterness.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS.

Nearly Four Hundred Have Been Turned Over to Representatives of the Czar.

(Associated Press)

Yokohama, Nov. 13.—Thirteen hundred and seventy-four Russian prisoners, including 1,332 bluejackets from Port Arthur and one colonel, one lieutenant colonel and eleven soldiers captured at Kienchching and Teliuse, have been released and turned over to the Russian representatives. The Japanese government has provided accommodation for them pending their transportation home.

The Standard Oil Co. Saturday reduced the price of all grades of crude oil except Raglan, says a Pittsburgh dispatch. The higher grades were reduced three cents, and the lower grades two cents.

STEAMER FLOATED.
The Graf Waldersee Has Proceeded to Her Dock to Reload.

(Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 13.—The steamship Graf Waldersee, which went aground on Saturday in the outer bay when fog bound, was floated shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. She had apparently sustained no damage. After being floated the Graf Waldersee proceeded immediately to her dock to reload.

The floating of the big liner required an hour's work by six tugs. Before the attempt at release was made about 3,000 of the 14,000 tons of cargo in the steamer's hold were taken off. An examination of the hull after the vessel had been floated showed that the only damage was the loss of paint from the portion of the hull which went into the mud.

(Associated Press)

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Details of a drowning fatality at High river, received by telegraph, the W. T. Francis, a companion lost their lives in the lake there while duck shooting. Francis was found dead with his hands still clenched on the upturned boat. The other body has not yet recovered.

A Recount.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 12.—The result of the election in High River is still in doubt. A recount is in progress here and eleven protest votes have been allowed so far. The Liberal secured seven and Conservatives four. The standing of the parties now is: Liberals, 23; Conservatives, 1; doubt, 1.

Fatality at Calgary.

Calgary, Nov. 12.—W. Henderson was killed in the C. P. R. yards here to-night.

Section Man Killed.

Brandon, Nov. 12.—A Galician section man named Ochita, working on the C. P. R. section here, was killed on Saturday night about 11 o'clock by being struck by a railway engine. This is the third fatal accident in the C. P. R. yards here this fall.

From the North.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Major Noble, of the gold commissioners' office in the Yukon, passed through here en route home, taking with him a set of golf sticks, the first used beyond Victoria.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Rev. Mr. King, pastor of the newly-formed African M. E. church, was stricken with paralysis of one side of his body, and was taken to his home in St. Paul, Minn., on Sunday.

Testing Natural Gas.

Medicine Hat, Nov. 12.—The C. P. R. is conducting a series of tests with a view of supplanting acetylene as a car illuminant and using natural gas from the wells here. The results are believed to be very satisfactory, the light from natural gas being much better. It is also a very safe illuminant.

Destroyed By Fire.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—The general store at Hartney, Man., of Frinkelman and Schaffer, with contents, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday, also the adjoining brick block occupied as restaurant and butcher shop. The insurance is $6,000; loss much heavier.

ANTI-TARTAR CAMPAIGN.

Armenian Committee Alleged to Be Responsible For the Recent Outbreaks.

Ellis, Nov. 13.—Reports from Shusha and other towns indicate that the Tartars are machinations in ascribing the collisions which have taken place to the activity of the Armenian committees. It is noticeable that at Baku the general opinion of non-Armenians, whether Russians or foreigners, inclines to hold the Armenians responsible for the outbreak and for the continuance of hostilities. Since the beginning of these outbreaks in February last the Tartars have everywhere and always explained the situation as being created by the aggressions of the Armenian committees and the anti-Tartar campaign conducted not only in the Armenian press, but also in every considerable section of the Russian press which they are able to influence.

Shortly after the outbreak at Nakchivan, the Armenian revolutionary committee known as Dashnaktschian, whose organ, the Drosak, published a proclamation warning the Tartars that if they persisted in attacking the Armenians, the latter would take vigorous measures to defend themselves and punish the Tartars. In a Russian translation of the answer to this proclamation issued by the Musseman religious brotherhood, it is affirmed that the charges against the Tartars are wholly false, inasmuch as "it is no secret for all the world that the collisions both at Baku and at Nakchivan were caused by you Armenians, or rather by the Armenian committees, the intellectual instigators of all the lawless deeds done by the Armenians."

With regard to the press campaign conducted by the Armenians, the Tartars express themselves with considerable bitterness.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS.

Nearly Four Hundred Have Been Turned Over to Representatives of the Czar.

(Associated Press)

Yokohama, Nov. 13.—Thirteen hundred and seventy-four Russian prisoners, including 1,332 bluejackets from Port Arthur and one colonel, one lieutenant colonel and eleven soldiers captured at Kienchching and Teliuse, have been released and turned over to the Russian representatives. The Japanese government has provided accommodation for them pending their transportation home.

The Standard Oil Co. Saturday

CHOLERA ON THE INCREASE IN RUSSIA

MANY CASES IN THE FRONTIER PROVINCES

Constant Vigilance Necessary on the Part of Authorities to Prevent Infection of Prussia.

(Associated Press)

New York, Nov. 13.—The steamship Graf Waldersee, which went aground on Saturday in the outer bay when fog bound, was floated shortly before 8 o'clock this morning. She had apparently sustained no damage. After being floated the Graf Waldersee proceeded immediately to her dock to reload.

The floating of the big liner required an hour's work by six tugs. Before the attempt at release was made about 3,000 of the 14,000 tons of cargo in the steamer's hold were taken off. An examination of the hull after the vessel had been floated showed that the only damage was the loss of paint from the portion of the hull which went into the mud.

(Associated Press)

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Details of a drowning fatality at High river, received by telegraph, the W. T. Francis, a companion lost their lives in the lake there while duck shooting. Francis was found dead with his hands still clenched on the upturned boat. The other body has not yet recovered.

A Recount.

Calgary, Alta., Nov. 12.—The result of the election in High River is still in doubt. A recount is in progress here and eleven protest votes have been allowed so far. The Liberal secured seven and Conservatives four. The standing of the parties now is: Liberals, 23; Conservatives, 1; doubt, 1.

Fatality at Calgary.

Calgary, Nov. 12.—W. Henderson was killed in the C. P. R. yards here to-night.

Section Man Killed.

Brandon, Nov. 12.—A Galician section man named Ochita, working on the C. P. R. section here, was killed on Saturday night about 11 o'clock by being struck by a railway engine. This is the third fatal accident in the C. P. R. yards here this fall.

From the North.

Winnipeg, Nov. 12.—Major Noble, of the gold commissioners' office in the Yukon, passed through here en route home, taking with him a set of golf sticks, the first used beyond Victoria.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—Rev. Mr. King, pastor of the newly-formed African M. E. church, was stricken with paralysis of one side of his body, and was taken to his home in St. Paul, Minn., on Sunday.

Testing Natural Gas.

Medicine Hat, Nov. 12.—The C. P. R. is conducting a series of tests with a view of supplanting acetylene as a car illuminant and using natural gas from the wells here. The results are believed to be very satisfactory, the light from natural gas being much better. It is also a very safe illuminant.

Destroyed By Fire.

Winnipeg, Nov. 13.—The general store at Hartney, Man., of Frinkelman and Schaffer, with contents, was completely destroyed by fire on Sunday, also the adjoining brick block occupied as restaurant and butcher shop. The insurance is $6,000; loss much heavier.

ANTI-TARTAR CAMPAIGN.

Armenian Committee Alleged to Be Responsible For the Recent Outbreaks.

Ellis, Nov. 13.—Reports from Shusha and other towns indicate that the Tartars are machinations in ascribing the collisions which have taken place to the activity of the Armenian committees. It is noticeable that at Baku the general opinion of non-Armenians, whether Russians or foreigners, inclines to hold the Armenians responsible for the outbreak and for the continuance of hostilities. Since the beginning of these outbreaks in February last the Tartars have everywhere and always explained the situation as being created by the aggressions of the Armenian committees and the anti-Tartar campaign conducted not only in the Armenian press, but also in every considerable section of the Russian press which they are able to influence.

Shortly after the outbreak at Nakchivan, the Armenian revolutionary committee known as Dashnaktschian, whose organ, the Drosak, published a proclamation warning the Tartars that if they persisted in attacking the Armenians, the latter would take vigorous measures to defend themselves and punish the Tartars. In a Russian translation of the answer to this proclamation issued by the Musseman religious brotherhood, it is affirmed that the charges against the Tartars are wholly false, inasmuch as "it is no secret for all the world that the collisions both at Baku and at Nakchivan were caused by you Armenians, or rather by the Armenian committees, the intellectual instigators of all the lawless deeds done by the Armenians."

With regard to the press campaign conducted by the Armenians, the Tartars express themselves with considerable bitterness.

RUSSIAN PRISONERS.

Nearly Four Hundred Have Been Turned Over to Representatives of the Czar.

(Associated Press)

Yokohama, Nov. 13.—Thirteen hundred and seventy-four Russian prisoners, including 1,332 bluejackets from Port Arthur and one colonel, one lieutenant colonel and eleven soldiers captured at Kienchching and Teliuse, have been released and turned over to the Russian representatives. The Japanese government has provided accommodation for them pending their transportation home.

The Standard Oil Co. Saturday

SPANISH ELECTIONS.

Municipal Contests Resulted Favorably to Government—Increased Majorities for Republicans.

(Associated Press)

Madrid, Nov. 13.—The municipal elections throughout the country yesterday resulted favorably to the government but the Republicans show increased majorities at many points. The police arrested sixty repeaters in this city. Election affairs occurred at various places.

The university here was re-opened to-day owing to the subsidence of the student disturbances.

NEW YORK HORSE SHOW.

More Entries Than Usual This Year—Prince Louis' Visit.

(Associated Press)

Washington, Nov. 13.—The public health and marine hospital service in its bulletin this week has a report on Asiatic cholera in Europe. The following is an extract from its Berlin advice:

"The official reports from Russia received by the Imperial German health department indicate a remarkable increase in the number of cases of cholera in the districts immediately adjacent to the Russo-German frontier. The measures taken by the health authorities seems to have the desired effect, and a focus is obliterated very soon after its establishment by their prompt, vigorous action. In view of the fact that cholera is increasing in Russia, in the provinces adjoining East Prussia, and in the districts which are drained by the Vistula, and which are in direct water communication with Prussia, constant vigilance will be necessary on the part of the German authorities to prevent the infection of Prussia."

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

(Associated Press)

Christiania, Nov. 13.—A plebiscite for and against the choice of Prince Charles of Denmark as King.

CLARETS

BARTON & GUESTIER'S
and EVARISTE DUPONT & CO.
BORDEAUX.

R. P. Rithet & Co., Ltd.

HALL'S PULMONIC
COUGH CURE
GIVES INSTANT RELIEF,
FOLLOWED BY COMPLETE CURE.
50c PER BOTTLE
THE CENTRAL DRUG STORE
N. E. COR. YATES & DOUGLAS.

AT THE THEATRE.
"Arizona" Was Presented Before a Fair House at the Victoria, Saturday Night.

"Arizona," a comedy drama, which has appeared here several years in succession, was presented at the Victoria theatre before a fair-sized audience by a capable company headed by Hollis E. Cooley on Saturday night. There is a simple but pretty romance woven into this play which has been so often here that it hardly needs to be described. Its sentiment is of a wholesome kind. The scene is laid in Arizona about the Canby ranch, near Fort Grant. In this drama, unlike many which have appeared here, there is scope for much individual work. All does not centre in one character, but in some four or five. Clement Kirby made the bluff and honest ranchman one would naturally expect to meet in the wilds of cattle plains of Arizona. Clarence Holzert as Col. Bonham, of the United States cavalry, gave a faithful presentation of that character. William Morgan, as Lieut. Hallack, displayed all the enthusiasm of a heroic and ardent lover which the play demanded, and Avis Lobdell, as Bontia, at once won the admiration of the audience, her bright sprightly ways adding greatly to the interest to the play. Francis Thompson, as Etrella, Bonham also had a difficult role and filled it very satisfactorily.

Other members of the company gave good portrayals of their parts, the play throughout being very enjoyable.

Watson's Theatre.

To-night the Watson stock company will present Joaquin Miller's sensational drama of the Great West, "The Danites."

The plot is laid in the gold fields of California during the pioneer days of '49. The piece is bubbling over with good comedy. Any number of stirring situations and strong and thrilling climaxes keep the interest of the audience from first to last. The characters are all well drawn, being true types of the new west. It is to be seen in the morning camps in the early days of California.

Albert Watson will appear in the greatest comedy part he has yet played here, that of "Judge Wise." The Watson company give a remarkably fine performance of the piece, and no doubt the theatre will be packed to the doors to-night for the first performance. There will be a number of bright new specialties introduced during the evening. It would be well to reserve seats early as there has been a big demand.

AGAINST MILITARISM.

Goldwin Smith Offers a Warning to British Press.

Goldwin Smith, writing to the Manchester Guardian, says that if Canada consents to contribute to imperial armaments, will the Empire undertake to guard the military frontier of Canada, at least four thousand miles in extent, and her naval frontier upon two oceans? That is a plain question to which a definite answer seems to be required. Goldwin Smith is right. Canada is perfectly safe as long as she is not involved in any European broils. Any such war has no bearing to interfere with Canada's "not world the United States," as long as Canada gave no offence, peaceful war to be carried "into the continent" if you please, by the help of militarists in giving us into military expenditure the result will be further need of taxation and the raising of import duties, with no exception in favor of British goods. The utterances of a circle of enthusiastic Imperialists may mislead you as to the general sentiments of our people, a large proportion of whom are French, and who are here, all of them, not to found an Empire in the clouds, but to make their bread.

WILL BE ENLARGED.

Nickel Plate Mill to Be Increased From Forty to One Hundred Stamps.

Arthur Hickling, of the Vermilion Forks Mining & Development Company, went to Rossland on his way to England, said that the railway transportation which the Similkameen has so long needed for its proper development is at last in sight. The Great Northern is pushing its line rapidly as it can west of Midway, but under considerable difficulty in getting a sufficient number of men. The Canadian Pacific, too, has begun the work of grading west of Midway.

The conditions in and about Princeton have been very good during the past summer and fall, but next spring the people there expect a tremendous boom. At Hedley the Nickel Plate mill is to be increased in size from forty to one hundred stamps, as the mine has large reserves of ore, sufficient to keep one hundred stamps in constant operation. It is the intention of the Daily estate, which controls the Nickel Plate, to erect a smelter at a later time.

MEETING TO-NIGHT.

Victoria West Municipal Voters' Association to Be Reorganized.

An election meeting is called for this evening at the athletic rooms, Victoria West, for the purpose of reorganizing the Victoria West Municipal Voters' Association. It is felt that the best results will not be attained until the association is in touch with every voter in the district. An effort is being made to overcome the difficulty experienced in the past, and an earnest request is made for a representative meeting to-night.

Three sisters who attended a masked ball at Trieste in red, green and white dresses respectively, thus forming the Italian tricolor when they stood together, were promptly arrested by the police at the ball, and only liberated on agreeing to leave their highly treasonable dresses with the police.

An amusement, not to say commotion, was caused at a wedding in the Heywood (Vancouver) district by the impatience of an elderly bridegroom. "Hurry up, with the ring," said he to the minister. "I've got to catch a train." When asked for the response company, the dispute hinged on a

ORDERS RELEASE OF
THE BOOMS OF LOGS

Judge Henderson Gives Decision in the Timber Case—Arguments Heard Before Full Court.

Judge Henderson, of Vancouver, on Saturday decided that the logs seized by Timber Inspector Skinner from J. S. Emerson should be released.

On Friday application was made before His Honor in County court chambers for the release of J. S. Emerson's booms of logs, which were seized by the provincial authorities. A. D. Taylor appeared for Mr. Emerson and stated that the seizure had been made under sub-section 3 of section 42 of the Land Act, which reads as follows: "All timber and timber products of lands must be manufactured within the confines of the province, otherwise the timber so cut may be seized and forfeited to the crown, and the lease canceled."

Mr. Taylor argued that this could not possibly apply to booms got out by handloggers, since the last words of the clause, "and the lease canceled," showed clearly that it was intended to apply to leasehold only, therefore timber cut by handloggers for export must be exempt from this provision.

H. C. Shaw, who had been retained by Provincial Timber Inspector Skinner to represent the government side of the case, argued that the act said quite clearly that "all timber cut from virgin land must be manufactured within the confines of the province, otherwise the timber so cut may be seized and forfeited to the crown." The reference to "lease canceled" was intended to show that where there was a lease it might be canceled. He did not see how any other meaning could be read into the act.

Both counsel argued along these lines at considerable length, and at the conclusion His Honor said he would reserve judgment till Saturday.

His Honor Judge Henderson gave judgment the following morning, ordering the release of the booms that had been seized by order of Timber Inspector Skinner, from J. S. Emerson in August last. His Honor's decision at the same time was against Mr. Emerson on the main points at issue, since he held that the handloggers as well as lessees, otherwise than against both parties, cannot be held to have asked leave to appeal, which was given.

His Honor delivered a verbal judgment, but intimated his willingness to hand down a written judgment if it should be required for the purpose of appeal. He said that he could not accede to the view that the provisions of the act in the Land Act which had been quoted did not apply to timber logged under special and handloggers' licenses. The section might be construed disjunctively and the words "lease canceled" at the end of the section might be left out of consideration when the question referred to logs cut under handloggers' or special licenses. He found his judgment, however, on the other point. He must accept the argument of Mr. Taylor that up to the time of seizure Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was not sufficient to justify seizure. It might be argued that this view, if sound, made a justifiable seizure impossible. It was not, however, his function to make the act workable. The statute must be construed strictly because it encroached on the rights of the subject. The rights of the other party must be protected on the rights of the subject. Mr. Emerson had a legal penitentiary and the right to change his mind at any moment, and the mere fact that he had expressed an intention to export was

The Daily Times

Published every day (except Sunday) by the Times Printing & Publishing Co.

LIMITED:
JOHN NELSON,
Managing Director.

Offices 26 Broad Street
Telephone: 45
Business Office 1000

Daily, one month, by carier 15
Daily, one week, by mail 15
Daily, by mail, per annum $5.00
Twice-a-Week Times, per annum $1.00

Copy for changes of advertisements must be handed in at the office not later than 9 o'clock a. m.; if received later than that hour will be charged the following day.

Special Eastern Canadian representative,
H. V. Kable, Rooms 119-127 Mail Bldg.,
Toronto.

The DAILY TIMES is on sale at the following places:

Jones' Cigar Store, Douglas Street;
Bainbridge's Book & Stationery St., 73 Yates St.;
Knight's Stationery Store, 73 Yates St.;
Victoria News Co. Ltd., 73 Yates St.;
T. Hibbert's Book & Stationery Co., 61 Govt. St.;
A. Edwards, 51 Yates St.;
West & Munro, Govt. and Trounce Alley;
George Macrae, 73 Yates and Govt. St.;
H. D. G. Green, 73 Yates and Govt. St.;
W. Willy, 91 Douglas Street;
Mrs. Green, Oak Bay; 1000
A. Schroeder, Menzies and Michigan Sts.;
Mrs. Talbot, Cook and Pandora Sts.;
Mrs. Marshall, George and George Sts.;
Geo. C. Anderson, 73 Yates and Govt. St.;
Neil Macdonald, East End Grocery, cor.
Foul and Oak Bay Ave.;
P. D. Roy, Palace Cigar Store, Govt. St.;
Orders taken at Geo. Macrae's for delivery of Daily Times.

The TIMES is also on sale at the following places:

Seattle—Lowman & Hanford, 610 First
Ave., opposite Pioneer Square; Hotel
Seattle, News Stand; Rainier Grand Hotel, News Stand.

Vancouver—Vancouver Hotel; Galloway &
Co., 610 Cambie St.;

Mr. Westminister—J. J. McKay; H. Morey
& Co.

Kamloops—Smith Bros.;
Dawson & White Horse; Bennett News Co.

Rosedale—D. W. McLean, M. W. Simpson

Nanaimo—Pimbara & Co.;
White Horse, Y. T.—Bennett News Co.

Revelstoke—C. D. Bestie, Red Cross Drug Store.

Spokane—Smith & McRae.

Phoenix—McRae Bros. & Smith.

Grand Falls—W. E. H. Hiltner.

Spokane—W. A. Johnson.

Portland, Ore.—At the Fair; Oregon News

Co., 147 Sixth St.; McConnell & Anderson

Co.; Rich's News Stand, 414 Morrison

St.; G. V. Yancey.

PECULIAR PLEA FOR BETTER TERMS.

It is argued that because British Columbia is far removed from the great industrial centres of Canada and has a long way to bring the goods she consumes in such large quantities per head of her population, paying extremely high transportation rates on the same, that therefore she has a good claim for special treatment in the form of "better terms" from the Dominion. That is to say, the subventions from the central to the provincial governments should bear a fixed relation to the nearness or the remoteness of the various provinces from the great commercial or industrial heart of the country. With the greatest possible amount of deference to the authority which has constituted itself chief advocate of the cause of "better terms," we submit that such an argument is neither impressive nor convincing. If such a demand were recognized, we fear there might be considerable difficulty in adjusting the grades of the provinces according to geographical situation.

And then, coming from a high Tory source, a source which believes implicitly in the efficacy of "adequate protection," it appears to us that the plan is inconsistent as well as weak. High freight rates are "adequately protecting" in their effects; even more protective than high customs schedules. They ought to stimulate production in British Columbia and make us independent of our grasping neighbors and the East and indifferent to the alleged objectionable and excessive transportation charges. It was argued, it will be remembered, that the National Policy would make Canada a self-contained country; it would stimulate agriculture and manufacturing, make everything boom at home, make us all rich and independent of either the products of the panzer labor of Great Britain or the still more objectionable output of the greedy trusts of the United States. Surely it will not be admitted that British Columbia could not, if put to the test, produce an abundance of all the necessities, even of the luxuries, of life? If we are the most highly protected portion of the Dominion, why is it that in our case extreme protection has been a failure? Why are we urged to demand better terms from Ottawa on the ground that our position of commercial isolation, which protectionists used to be ideal conditions, handicaps us in our efforts to develop our rich provincial inheritance?

Will the illogical advocate of the cause of better terms join us in a demand for a decrease of duties, a demand which if complied with would have the effect of countering the evils of exorbitant freight charges and would therefore be a short and quick route to the longed-for goal of better terms? We ask this question because we observe that a section of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, an organization which is intended to be on very friendly terms with the Conservative party, is demanding an increase in the protective duties which apply to British goods. If that request be complied with, it would affect British Columbia more directly than any other section of Canada, because it would place us more completely at the mercy of the companies which charge high rates for transportation, and because it is well known that home manufacturers and home transportation companies regulate their prices and charges to meet the degree of competition they are compelled to meet.

Prince Louis of Battenberg and Citizen Roosevelt, having lent their countenance to a prize fight between British and American champions of the fleets now fraternizing in the extremity of brotherly love at New York and elsewhere, we may look for a great increase in the popularity of the sport in this country. Perhaps we may look for the removal of all restrictions upon the operations of the artists of the manly art.

A grand jury has suggested a method of awakening Torontonians to a realization of the enormity of their offences against the reputation of that good city. It advises the judge to apply the lash with frequency and vigor.

INDEMNITIES AND PENSIONS.

The question of sessional indemnities and pensions to ex-ministers has been brought anew within the zone of political criticism in the East by the bye-election in North York, Ont., where Hon. A. B. Aylesworth is striving for succession to Sir William Mulock. The candidate has expressed his disapproval of the measure and his opinion that it should be reconsidered and in some respects modified. A certain section of the opposition is striving to make political capital against the government because of it. But we have already quoted from the speech of Mr. Borden on the subject, in which the Conservative leader held that while the proposition was a good one in some respects, his opinion was that it did not go far enough to completely cover the ground.

On the subject the Ottawa Free Press says: "The measure was not a government measure, but was due to the united action of the whole House. It was done in haste, but the causes that lead to it had been fully discussed among the members and in caucus.

But the pension legislation should be modified. It is not right that men who have given up business careers to serve in the cabinet should be cast on an unsympathetic world without some provision being made for their declining years. They should be amply provided for, but only in case of need. It is ludicrous that young men and men of great earning capacity should have their pensions augmented out of the public treasury. Ex-Cabinet Ministers are not likely to lie about their incomes, and where they have not sufficient to support them it is only reasonable to expect that they should be provided for."

EUROPEAN CENSORS.

The powers of Europe are again going to undertake jointly the job of showing the "Sick Man" how to govern his turbulent family. There are some unusual features in the programme which has been mapped out to demonstrate the displeasure of the great nations at the Sultan of Turkey's treatment of the Christians in Macedonia and elsewhere who are so unchristianlike in their manifestations.

In the first place, his Imperial Majesty the Czar of Russia, whose own dominions are in anything but an ideal condition, is to be the leader in the movement which is to demonstrate to the Sultan how a potentate should govern his own national household. One would naturally think, unless he were a monarch or a grand duke or some kind of a dignitary by the accident of heredity, and therefore peculiar in his point of view, that all the energies of the Czar and all the moral and other forces at his command could now be used to great advantage at home. But great men have a multitude of duties to perform towards their weaker brethren. The Sultan is in need, or the watchdogs of Europe think he is, and they are determined to help him out.

In the next place why does the Emperor of Germany, that watchdog of the hereditary rulers, stand alone in this new Turkish crisis? His Majesty is not only the defender of the faith of Germans. He is a devout Christian gentleman, paying the strictest attention to his religious duties, occupying the pulpit occasionally and holding forth in prayer with greatunction regularly, has a sublime conception of the attributes of the only Ruler who is one degree more powerful and glorious than himself, and who manifested the divine force of His judgment by raising up a real king to rule in Germany—why does the Kaiser hang back at this time when his recreant navy would do so much to impress the lazy and impotent Sultan with the heinousness of his conduct? We can understand why that other ruler who is usually in the forefront of all international affairs remains aloof now that the "Sick Man" is to be lightly estimated. Surely such a man would make a better secretary than one who has not this expert knowledge. This certainly is obvious to anyone who gives the matter the slightest consideration.

Sometimes men are elected or appointed to the two positions being filled by the same person, that there is anything inconsistent in it, is easily disproved by the fact that in many of the most progressive cities of the United States the two positions are filled by one officer. Throughout the New England states this is almost invariably the case. Experience there has shown that there are many advantages in this. The superintendent of schools is an educational expert whose duty it is to advise the school board on all educational matters, just as it is the duty of the city engineer to advise the Mayor and aldermen on all matters along certain other lines. He keeps in touch with the teachers and is able to estimate the work each one is capable of doing, he understands all the minutiae and details of the inner working of the schools, and from the very nature of his position is the best informed man regarding school matters in the community. To have such a man for secretary of a school board, in attendance at all meetings of the board, ready at all times to give advice on school matters, is certainly an advantage not to be lightly estimated. Surely such a man would make a better secretary than one who has not this expert knowledge. This certainly is obvious to anyone who gives the matter the slightest consideration.

Sometimes men are elected or appointed

Walter S. Fraser & Co., Ltd.

Importers and Dealers in General Hardware

A full line of Air Tight Heaters, Lanterns, etc., Enamel and Tinware.

WHARF STREET.

TELEPHONE NO. 3 P. O. BOX 423.

Call and Inspect

Our beautiful line of New HAND BAGS, all of the most up-to-date patterns, direct from New York. Make your selection early, before the best are gone.

PRICES FROM $2.50 to $10.00.

C. E. REDFERN

GOVERNMENT STREET.

The husband of another American woman has been raised to the peerage by the King. Of course it was for the purpose of paying homage to America that the husband of the American woman was thus signally honored.

THE EVERLASTING TOPIC.

To the Editor:—It might be well for the members of the school board to make haste slowly in dealing with the question of the separation of the secretaryship of the Board from the superintendency of the city schools. No interest can in any way suffer if the matter is allowed to stand over to be dealt with by the new board which is to be elected in a few weeks. In the meantime the matter might be discussed by the candidates seeking election to the school board, and information obtained as to the experience of other cities which would enable them who would then have to deal with the matter to do so in a more judicious and statesmanlike manner. To rush through such an important matter now, thus adding another salaried officer to the already expensive machinery of the city, at a time when a majority of the members of the board are to go out of office in a few weeks, would seem to be not only unnecessary, but unwise, to the verge of rashness, and might subject the members of the board to a suspicion of acting under the influence of some personal feeling.

It is not many years since the two positions were separate and were filled by two different persons. The board of that day, after giving due consideration to the question, deemed it wise to amalgamate the two offices. Wherein is the board of today better than the board of that day? Wherein has the change failed to prove advantageous? We have heard a lot of assertions about the matter, but assertions prove nothing, except the weakness of the cause of those who make them.

That there is anything incompatible in the two positions being filled by the same person, that there is anything inconsistent in it, is easily disproved by the fact that in many of the most progressive cities of the United States the two positions are filled by one officer.

It is impossible for the British Columbia Electric Company to get sufficient water to furnish a good water supply for the city, as the company could dispose of. As a source of water supply, Elk lake is capable of supplying a population at least double what now use it, and the pumping station moved to a point where the machinery can do efficient work.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

The Goldstream supply would be sufficient for the present population of the city. To bring it to the city would cost a million dollars, and it would have to be pumped.

CHARMING COTTAGE

With six rooms, bath, pantry, electric light, and two lots with fruit trees, etc.

THIS IS A S. P.

Best of situation in "East End." Car every ten minutes. Call and get particulars.

IT WILL PAY YOU

GRANT & CONYERS

NO. 2 VICTORIA STREET.

Opposite Entrance to Dr. D. H. Bowes.

Sudden Sickness

Demands immediate attention. Summon your physician at once. When he has written the prescription bring or send it with all haste to our store. We will dispense it, using the purest drugs, and giving you just what the doctor orders.

OPEN ALL NIGHT.

Cyrus H. Bowes,

CHEMIST.

98 Government St., Near Yates St.

More value than ever
A DWELLING

In good order and condition, containing 6 rooms, bath and pantry, cellar and outbuildings.

Lot 50 x 140

Good residential district, close to car line.

$1,700.00

On terms to suit. Particulars on application.

P. R. BROWN, LTD.

30 BROAD ST.

Phone 1076. P. O. Box 423.

M
U
M
M
S

CHAMPAGNE.

PITHER & LEISER
Sole Agents.THE ONLY PIANO PLAYER THAT IS NOT MECHANICAL

ANGELUS

FOR WHICH

M. W. Waitt & Co. Ltd.

44 GOVERNMENT ST.

ARE SOLE AGENTS

A VERSATILE ENTERTAINMENT IS THE COLUMBIA
GRAPHOPHONE

It will sing, talk, laugh. It will play all kinds of music or tell a story.

A handsome cabinet machine that will play all sizes of disc records, only $15.00.

FLETCHER BROS.

SOLE AGENTS FOR B. C.

The Victoria Poultry Association will hold a meeting in the city hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. All interested in poultry are requested to attend, as the principal business will be to prepare for the approaching show.

CITY NEWS IN BRIEF

SPECIAL SALES

TOILET GOODS, COMBS, BRUSHES, SKIN

TONICS, PARFUMS, ETC.

B. C. DRUG STORE

Tel. 356. 27 Johnson Street.

J. TEAGUE, Proprietor.

RUPTURE

Heard's appliances for all forms of ruptures in men, women and children are guaranteed and endorsed by physicians everywhere.

Lot 50 x 140

Good residential district, close to car line.

$1,700.00

On terms to suit. Particulars on application.

P. R. BROWN, LTD.

30 BROAD ST.

Phone 1076. P. O. Box 423.

CHARMING COTTAGE

The regular monthly meeting of the Refuge Home committee will be held at the Home, North Pembroke street, on Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m.

A meeting of the Phenological Society will be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Johnson will deliver a lecture on "The Temperament."

The Margherita Mandolin Club will meet for rehearsal to-morrow evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. All members are urgently requested to be present.

The annual civil service examination begins in the rooms of the public works department to-morrow at 9 a.m., and will be under the supervision of Dr. Campbell, as in past years.

Victoria Hive, No. 1, Ladies of the Macqueens, will hold their regular review to-morrow evening in A. O. U. W. hall at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance of officers and members is requested.

—Victoria Hive, No. 1, Ladies of the Macqueens, will hold their regular review to-morrow evening in A. O. U. W. hall at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance of officers and members is requested.

—The Tree smelter returns for the month of October show that the smelter ran 16 days and treated 2,975 tons of Tree ore, giving a return, after deduction of freight and refining charges, of $51,237.57.

—Andrew's Society will hold its monthly meeting to-night in Sir William Wallace Hall, when the annual election of officers will take place, after which an annual dinner to be held on St. Andrew's night.

—There will be a general basketball practice to-night at the F. Y. M. A. hall. This is the opening practice of the season, and at the conclusion there will be an exhibition match from teams selected. From now on basketball regular practices will be held every Monday and Thursday evening.

—On Monday, November 6th, at Centre, Nicola Valley, Richard Austin, fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams of Victoria, passed away at the residence of his sister, Mrs. J. Richards. Deceased was well known in Victoria, having been manager of different canneries up north.—Kamloops Sentinel.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—In San Francisco on November 6th, John A. Duncan was granted a divorce from Mary French on the grounds of incompatibility. They were married in Chicago in 1900, afterwards removing to San Francisco, where they have since resided.

—Queen Alexandra Hive, No. 11, Ladies of the Macqueens, will hold its regular review this evening in the Knights of Pythias hall at 8 o'clock. All members are earnestly requested to be present as business of great importance will be discussed.

—According to a regimental order issued by Lt. Col. Hall, commanding the Fifth Regiment on Saturday, Major D. B. McConan is temporarily retired from duty at his own request. Capt. W. N. Winsby will assume command of No. 2 company in the place of Major D. B. McConan until further orders.

—In the article on the presentation of medals to winners of the swimming competitions held at the Pleasant street baths, which appeared in the Times on Saturday, the name was omitted. Miss Madge Griffin of the North Ward school, who won the first prize for the best stroke. She is nine years of age and an exceedingly pretty swimmer.

—The King's Daughters held a social session in the society's rooms, Fort street, on Saturday afternoon. Among the enjoyable features was the "fish count," the ladies prizes for which were awarded as follows: Miss Phipps, first, number 204; Boys, Jack Clay, first, number 202; Darcy Rose, second, number 201.

—According to November's Typographical Journal Willard Le Claire died at Vicksburg, Miss., on September 22nd. He was a native of Victoria, and attended St. Louis college about 20 years ago. Subsequently he became connected with the local printing offices. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of the deceased's relatives is requested to notify M. J. McAvilley, Mississippi Printing Co., Vicksburg, Miss.

—George Berger, S. B. Stevens and his wife, Annette Stevens, were indicted by the federal grand jury at Seattle on Friday on the specific charge of smuggling twenty-seven pounds of opium into the United States from British Columbia on September 29th last. At the time of the arrest of the three a couple of months ago, considerable notoriety was given the case because of the apparent good standing of all the people involved.

Berger was a conductor on the Canadian Pacific Railroad and is said to have utilized his train for the purpose of carrying the drug across the border.

—The Young Housekeeper's Table China—Going to be married soon? Yes. Then you will need a dinner service as part of the housekeeping equipment; that's certain! We are showing some splendid values in the most fascinating choice of designs. Come and look them over. —Weller Bros.

—The Victoria Poultry Association will hold a meeting in the city hall to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock. All interested in poultry are requested to attend, as the principal business will be to prepare for the approaching show.

—For solid comfort, travel by the Northern Pacific's swell train, The North Coast Limited.

The regular monthly meeting of the Refuge Home committee will be held at the Home, North Pembroke street, on Tuesday, at 8:30 p.m.

A meeting of the Phenological Society will be held at the Y. M. C. A. hall this evening at 8 o'clock. Mr. Johnson will deliver a lecture on "The Temperament."

The Margherita Mandolin Club will meet for rehearsal to-morrow evening in the auditorium of the Y. M. C. A. All members are urgently requested to be present.

—The annual civil service examination begins in the rooms of the public works department to-morrow at 9 a.m., and will be under the supervision of Dr. Campbell, as in past years.

—Victoria Hive, No. 1, Ladies of the Macqueens, will hold their regular review to-morrow evening in A. O. U. W. hall at 8 o'clock sharp. A full attendance of officers and members is requested.

—The Tree smelter returns for the month of October show that the smelter ran 16 days and treated 2,975 tons of Tree ore, giving a return, after deduction of freight and refining charges, of $51,237.57.

—Andrew's Society will hold its monthly meeting to-night in Sir William Wallace Hall, when the annual election of officers will take place, after which an annual dinner to be held on St. Andrew's night.

—There will be a general basketball practice to-night at the F. Y. M. A. hall. This is the opening practice of the season, and at the conclusion there will be an exhibition match from teams selected. From now on basketball regular practices will be held every Monday and Thursday evening.

—On Monday, November 6th, at Centre, Nicola Valley, Richard Austin, fifth son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Williams of Victoria, passed away at the residence of his sister, Mrs. J. Richards. Deceased was well known in Victoria, having been manager of different canneries up north.—Kamloops Sentinel.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyrone, Ireland, 46 years ago. Mrs. Nelson, his wife, died about six months ago, and he has so deeply mourned her taking off that it brought on his death. He leaves one son, W. J. Nelson, of this city, and three daughters— one at Brampton and two in Victoria— a full attendance is requested.

—The death occurred of Frederick Jos. Hood some days ago on Valdez Island. Deceased was 80 years of age and leaves a family of seven sons to mourn his loss, of whom two are residents of Vancouver, William Hood of Baileys Bros., and John Hood of Edwards Bros. The remaining five are living in the East. Deceased was a member of the A. O. U. W. and Masonic order.

—In the County court this morning Judge Lampman heard further argument in the case of the Victoria Bridging & Publishing Company vs. Finley. This is a dispute as to a claim in connection with the building of a special number of The Week, which appeared some time ago. The case was not decided this morning, and further evidence will have to be taken.

—The Rossland Miner of Thursday says: "W. J. Nelson, police magistrate, yesterday received the sad intelligence of the death of his father, James Nelson, at Brampton, Ont., at the ripe age of 77 years. Mr. Nelson was one of the pioneers of the town of Brampton, arriving there from Tyr

New Paper Shelled ALMONDS AND WALNUTS Finest Grown

MOWAT'S GROCERY, 77 Yates St.

SPLENDID MATCH AT WORK POINT

RIVAL TEAMS PLAYED DRAW ON SATURDAY

Fine Exhibition of Association Football Between Victoria-United and Gar- rison Teams - Notes

The Victoria United and Garrison Association football teams tried conclusions on Saturday afternoon at Work Point grounds. Crowds had gathered from the city and the barracks to witness the struggle, which had been advertised as likely to be the finest ever played here. Both teams had been training steadily and every player taking a place on the field at the call of time was in perfect physical condition and prepared to put up a fast game from the start to the finish. The final outcome was a draw, each eleven scoring two goals, once more demonstrating the evenness of the rival teams. It was a clean exhibition, there being no semblance of intentional rough play at any stage, in fact the contest was as different from that of Thanksgiving day as possible to that of the day of Easter. Fast bright play was constantly occurring on both sides, and if the soldier spectators had reason to cheer one minute, the next almost invariably gave the civilians an opportunity to applaud.

To compare the two elevens on Saturday's performance would be a difficult matter. The changes in the line-up of the Garrison seemed to lend strength to certain parts and take away the effectiveness of others. For instance, the left wing, where the two ill-tempered but clever aggressive forwards, Constable and Hazelwood, are wont to operate lacked its usual speed and one didn't have to go far to discover the reason. Crisp had been put on in the place of Constable, thus breaking up a very fine combination. But if the forward line was weakened, the defence was somewhat strengthened, so that the one neutralized, the other and the team may be said to have been matched as well as heretofore. This leaves plenty of time for the Vancouver eleven to get into condition and to study their best combinations. The recent practices have been with full sides, and an improvement has been noticeable in many ways. There is still need, however, for a lot more snap, and the pace should be better sustained throughout the whole game. The passing from half back to forwards is improving and should be very carefully cultivated, as without it the forward line loses half its usefulness.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

near the civilian posts and Whyte had rushed out to relieve. He and Lorimer came together and both missed the ball. It was sent through when the goalkeeper was absent from his position. Victoria's second point, the one which evened matters, was made by Schwengen, who followed up a shot made by Berney, with one which Worrall could not handle.

W. Robinson made an effective referee, showing a thorough knowledge of the rules and officiating in an unbiased manner.

CAPITALS VICTORIOUS.

At Oak Bay on Saturday afternoon the Capital and North Ward intermediates played the first match of the local series. It resulted in a win for the former by a score of eight goals to nil. The game was very cleanly contested throughout. The forwards of the winners were fast and aggressive, and appeared able to elude the opposition defences with ease. Harry T. Denen scored five out of the eight goals. He was ably assisted by McKittrick, who made two, and Whyte, with one point to his credit. The North Wards were out of practice and absolutely unable to cope with the superior play of their opponents.

C. McDougal acted as referee.

V. W. A. A. Win.

The Victoria West and South Park junior teams played on Saturday afternoon. After a rather slow contest the former left the field victorious by a score of goal to nothing. H. Harper acted as referee.

THE RING.

FITZGERALD WON.

San Francisco, Nov. 11.—Willie Fitzgerald knocked out Fred Landers in the 25th round at Colma last night with a right swing on the jaw. The fight was in Landers' favor up to the 15th, then the tide turned to Fitzgerald. In the 25th round Landers was knocked down three times.

A DRAW.

Los Angeles, Nov. 11.—Eddy Hanlon and "Aurelio" Horres fought a 20-round draw last night. While Hanlon did all the forcing from the start to finish and had the best of it from the first to the tenth round, Horres fought well and won the last tenth to the seventeenth. His right uppercuts to body and head were effective. Both men fought in much the same style, getting close together, covering up and using a crutch.

THE FIRST MATCH.

The first game for the season has been arranged for Thanksgiving Day, when the Victoria team will come over. This leaves plenty of time for the Vancouver eleven to get into condition and to study their best combinations. The recent practices have been with full sides, and an improvement has been noticeable in many ways. There is still need, however, for a lot more snap, and the pace should be better sustained throughout the whole game. The passing from half back to forwards is improving and should be very carefully cultivated, as without it the forward line loses half its usefulness.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

HOCKEY.

Victoria v. NANAIMO.

A match has been arranged between the Victoria ladies' team and the Nanaimo club. It will take place on Saturday, November 23rd, in the Coal City. In preparation for this a practice game was held on Saturday afternoon and another is called for Wednesday.

AT OAK BAY.

In the match played between the Victoria club and the Victoria College team on Saturday afternoon, at Oak Bay, the former were successful by a score of 7 goals to nil. It was an interesting contest, Miss Connell acting as referee to the satisfaction of all concerned.

THE KENNEL.

The annual meeting of the Victoria Kennel Club will be held to-morrow evening at Pioneer hall. Matters of importance will come up for consideration, besides the discussion of the reports of retiring officers. A full attendance of members is desired.

THE DESERTED ATOLL.

The night was very quiet and soundless, but for the low-throbbing of the surf upon the weather side of the atoll. On the smooth, glass-like surface of the small blue bell lagoon, fringed with a scanty, broken belt of silent coconuts, the light of myriad stars shone down and glorified it, so that it seemed to me as a lake of silver in the House Beautiful that is beyond.

Our schooner lay at anchor outside the reef, two miles away from where I lay upon the coarse grass under the shadow of the small grove of pandanus palms and even now and then could see the gleam of her riding light as she went about the reef.

I had pulled on shore in the dinghy to spend the night on this lonely, uninhabited spot in the North Pacific for two reasons: one was that the vessel carried a malodorous cargo of copra and shark fins, and the other was that I wanted a night's fishing in the lagoon, and a ramble over the seven small islets which formed the atoll. There was but one small boat passage into the lagoon—so narrow that the ends of the oars blades had grazed the coral sides.

It was past supper time when the boat touched the white sand of a tiny little beach that shone under the bright starlight, and which was almost in the centre of the largest of the seven islets. Here the coco and pandanus palms were growing plentifully on any other than the sand, and the ground was strewn with old coconut shells, the rich, red-yellow droplets of pandanus fruit, upon which hundreds of small, yellow crabs were silently but vigorously feeding.

I caught one of the smallest, killed it,

VICTORIA DAILY TIMES MONDAY NOVEMBER 13 1905

The Semi-ready sack suit has a snappy style that makes others look commonplace

Many tailors forget all about style when it comes to a sack suit—that is the reason for the slouchy ones you see.

Semi-ready tailoring takes particular care of the lines in sack suits—they are graceful and up-to-date.

They are tailored to retain their shape and stand constant wear.

We would like to show you some of this season's sack suits.

The Stages of the Preliminary Mail and Passenger Service of

THE WHITE PASS AND YUKON ROUTE

Now operating between White Horse and Dawson, will be superseded by the regular sleighs about December 1st. For information apply to the

GENERAL FREIGHT AND PASSENGER

AGENT,
Vancouver, B. C.

SWANSON, SANDO, WOOD
AND CO., LTD., VICTORIA,
DIRECT LINE TO MEXICO.

S. S. MARIPOSA, for Tahiti, Nov. 22.

S. S. SIERRA, for Auckland, Sydney, 2

p. m., Thursday, Nov. 22.

U. S. SPRINGFIELD, 2005, CO., Asia, Trust Office, 842 Market St., Freight Office, 227 Market St., For No. 2, Pacific St.

R. P. BIRTHET & CO., LTD., Victoria.

OCEANICS S. S. CO.

SWANSON, SANDO, WOOD
AND CO., LTD., VICTORIA,
DIRECT LINE TO MEXICO.

S. S. MARIPOSA, for Tahiti, Nov. 22.

S. S. SIERRA, for Auckland, Sydney, 2

p. m., Thursday, Nov. 22.

U. S. SPRINGFIELD, 2005, CO., Asia, Trust Office, 842 Market St., Freight Office, 227 Market St., For No. 2, Pacific St.

R. P. BIRTHET & CO., LTD., Victoria.

Esquimalt & Nanaimo Railway

TIME TABLE NO. 57—EFFECTIVE SATURDAY, OCTOBER 21st, 1905.

| Northbound. | Daily, Southbound. | Northbound. | Sat., Sun. Southbound. |
|----------------|--------------------|-------------|------------------------|
| Leave. | Arrive. | Leave. | Arrive. |
| | | | |
| Victoria | 9.00 | 12.00 | 3.00 |
| Shawigan Lake | 10.20 | 10.45 | 4.20 |
| Duncans | 11.00 | 10.05 | 5.00 |
| Champlain | 11.32 | 9.30 | 5.32 |
| Ladysmith | 11.52 | 9.10 | 6.00 |
| Nanaimo | 12.35 | 8.20 | 6.42 |
| Ar. Wellington | 12.55 | 8.00 | 6.55 |
| | | | Ar. Wellington |

Excursion rates in effect between all points good going Saturdays and Sundays, returning not later than Monday.

THROUGH TICKETS VICTORIA TO CROFTON, VIA WESTHORPE.

Stage leaves Daily, connecting with north and south bound trains. Double stage service Saturdays, Sundays and Wednesdays, connecting with morning and afternoon trains. Fare from Victoria: Single, $2.40; Return, $3.80.

GEO. L. COURTNEY,
Dist. Frt. & Pass. Agt.

TICKET OFFICE

Corner of Government and Yates Sts.

VICTORIA, B. C.

3—TRANSCONTINENTAL—3
—TRAINS DAILY—

One of which is the popular

"NORTH COAST LIMITED"

The Electric Lighted Train to the East.

Up-to-date Pullman and Tourist Sleepers on ALL trains. Pullman tickets issued. Through tickets to all Eastern United States and Canadian points.

ATLANTIC STEAMSHIP TICKETS on sale to all European points. Cabin accommodation reserved by wire. Christmas rates now in effect.

For further information call at the office, or phone No. 456.

A. D. CHARLTON, E. E. BLACKWOOD,
A. G. P. A., N. P., General Agent,
Portland, Ore.

General Agent, Victoria, B. C.

GRAND TRUNK RAILWAY SYSTEM
EXCELLENT
Train Service BETWEEN
CHICAGO, LONDON,
HAMILTON, TORONTO,
MONTREAL, QUEBEC,
PORTLAND, BOSTON,
And the Principal Business Centers of ONTARIO, QUEBEC, and the Maritime Provinces.
ALSO TO BUFFALO, NEW YORK and PHILA-DELPHIA, VIA NIAGARA FALLS.
For Time Tables, etc., address
GEO. W. VAUX,
Assistant General Passenger and Ticket Agent,
128 Adams St., Chicago, Ill.

Semi-ready
Tailoring
B. WILLIAMS & CO.,
Sole Agents, Victoria, B. C.

SYNOPSIS OF CANADIAN NORTH-WEST

HOMESTEAD REGULATIONS.

Any even numbered section of Dominion Lands in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and the Northwest Territories, except sections 5 and 36, not reserved, may be homesteaded upon by any person who is the sole head of a family, or any person over 18 years of age, to the extent of one-quarter section, of 160 acres, more or less.

Entry may be made personally at the local office of the Commissioner of Dominion Lands or by mail to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands at Ottawa, if the land is situated in the vicinity of the office of the Commissioner of Dominion Lands or in the vicinity of the local agent for the district in which the land is situated, receive authority for HOMESTEAD DUTIES: A settler who has been granted an entry for a homestead is entitled to a homestead entry upon the conditions connecting him therewith under one of the following plans:

(1) If at least one month's residence upon the land to be taken is desired, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(2) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(3) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(4) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(5) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(6) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(7) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(8) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(9) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(10) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(11) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(12) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied by residence upon the said land for a period of three years, before the Local Agent, Sub-agent or the Homestead Inspector.

(13) If the settler makes a homestead entry upon the land to be taken, he may, on application to the Commissioner of Dominion Lands, make a homestead entry upon the land, and the Commissioner of Dominion Lands will be satisfied

Dear Mother

Your little ones are a constant care in Fall and Winter weather. They will catch cold. Do you know about Shiloh's Consumption Cure, the Lung Tonic, and what it has done for so many? It is said to be a valuable aid for all diseases of the air passages in children. It is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take. It is guaranteed to cure or money is returned. The price is 25c. per bottle, and all dealers in medicine sell.

SHILOH

This remedy should be in every household.

Tainted Gold.

BY MRS. C. N. WILLIAMSON, Author of "The Barn Stormers," "Football's Sport," "Lady Mary of the Dark House," "Queen Sweetheart," "The House by the Lock," etc.

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS!

The tale opens at the Duke of Clarence's theatre, by the stage-door of which a young man, powerful and remarkably handsome, but looking wretched, if he had just come from the Wild West, is waiting to see the manager. He is noticed by Winifred Gray, a rising young actress, and also by Lionel Macaire, a millionaire and friend of the manager's, but of repulsive appearance and infamous character. The strange, whose name is Hope Newcome, introduces himself as a friend of "F. E. Z." and the initials strangely affect not only the manager, Mr. Anderson, but also Macaire, Newcome, who announces that he has come to England for the purpose of "doing something," asks Anderson for an engagement, but the manager, prompted by the millionaire, tries to dissuade him from referring to the performance that evening. Winifred Gray is sent for to the booth, where she sees Macaire. The millionaire informs her that he has now a controlling interest in the theatre, and offers her an engagement as Rosalind. Winifred, who has been playing small parts, is at first dazzled by the offer, but on a declaration of love from Macaire she rejects the millionaire's advances withathing. Macaire allows her to go to the amusement, but declares that he will break her to his will. The same night Hope Newcome, still loitering at the stage door, sees a stranger of powerful physique mount the box of Winifred's cat beside the driver. Newcome orders him down, and a struggle takes place.

CHAPTER IX.

Winifred's Dramatic Exit.

Not at last the murder was out. Winifred wondered at her own coolness, for this name, near being a death-blow to her. She seemed to be puffed, without feeling; suddenly she cared no more than if this were happening to a girl hardly knew. Her impulse would have been to refuse the salary—to say that she would not take what she had not earned, and that she would consider her engagement terminated from this moment. But, with the pressing knowledge of her mother's needs, she could not afford to indulge her hurt pride.

"I don't quite understand, Mr. Anderson," she said in a strained voice, which seemed to come from someone else. "What's to play Lady Kitty if I am discharged?"

"Don't talk about being discharged, my dear child," exclaimed the actor manager. "Of course, you can go on playing Lady Kitty, if you really prefer, but I thought, as there might be gossip in the theatre about the part of Celia being rehearsed by someone else, it would be pleasant for you to be out of it altogether."—Chapter IX. Continued.

She got along with Kitty very nicely, I dare say. And she's quite good enough for Celia, poor girl."

Winifred sat still, thinking earnestly for a moment. Lionel Macaire had kept his word, and had lost not a moment in setting about it. There was no shadow of doubt that she owed this blow to him, though by what threats or what bribes he had made George Anderson his cat's paw she could not tell. The millionaire had punished her, and if she took Mr. Anderson at his word and played Lady Kitty during the next fortnight he would surely cause her to regret it, either by forcing himself upon her at the theatre or by some other method which she could not foresee.

Now that this terrible slight had been put upon her by the manager there would be nothing save humiliation for her at the Duke of Clarence's, where she had been so happy; there was nothing more for her in the engagement which had brought her such joy, except to take the remaining money that was due, and retire with what grace she could.

"Very well, Mr. Anderson," she said. "I do think I am being hardly treated, but I know very well there's no object to be gained by saying so, except a little rather bitter satisfaction to myself, perhaps. I must accept the salary for the remaining fortnight, though I wish very much I need not."

"Please—please don't make this any harder for me than it is already," pleaded Anderson, rising hastily, that the disagreeable interview might the sooner come to an end. "Celia's really not good enough for you, my dear Miss Gray. You can do better for yourself—much better."

Winifred took the hint, and rose from her chair also. "It will be difficult to do anything at all so late in the year," she said, with some bitterness; "especially when it is known that I've been discharged from the Duke of Clarence's."

"What word again?" ejaculated Anderson, beginning to be irritated in the middle of his remorse. "No such thing will be known. You have been taken suddenly ill or family trouble has forced you to give up acting for the present—which you please. You've only to choose, and I'll have the same story for all reporters or anyone who applies to the theatre for information."

(To be continued.)

"Family trouble?" The words stung Winifred like needles. There was truth enough for such an excuse; nevertheless, she would not make it. "I think I should prefer," she said, looking him straight in the eyes, "that the real truth should be told."

He flushed under her look, and dropped the long lashes of which he was as proud as if he had been a professional beauty. "At least, Miss Gray," he retorted, sharply, "I have spared your feelings as much as possible. I have seen you myself. I have talked with you as one friend talks to another, and—"

A sudden knock at the door seemed to strike the next word from his mind. There was distress in his handsome face as he said: "Come in."

Something told Winifred that it was Macaire who stood outside the door, demanding admittance, so that when he entered he had not, at all events, the satisfaction of meeting her. He knew that George Anderson had sent for the girl, and the hour of the appointment; probably he had been with the actor manager when the letter was written, and he had come purely for the pleasure of beholding the destruction he had wrought.

But at the sight of the hideous red face and the pale eyes which though the suering lips were silent, said to her, "I warned you what you had to expect, and I have kept my word," Winifred's spirit rose.

A bright color sprang to her cheeks. Her eyes were like stars. Never had she been so beautiful. She had faced the door as Lionel Macaire opened it, and she made the one glance she gave tell of what had been given merely because it was unavoidable.

"Good morning and good bye, Mr. Anderson," she said, her head held high, and a proud smile on her lips. Then, drawing her dress aside that it might not be desecrated by touching the millionaire, she swept by him without a look.

"By 'Jove," she thought she heard Geo. Anderson say, as the door closed behind her.

As she went down the stairs from the office, the blood throbbing in her temples seemed to blind her eyes to the reddish mist. Hardly had she seen that she did, she forced her way through labyrinths of passages to the region of the dressing room, and shut herself into her room. There the half-fallen on the little wicker sofa, where she had nestled so cozily many a time. She had loved the very smell of this theatre—the queer, indefinable odor made up of gas and mustiness, which is like nothing in the world outside a theatre, or even further in front of "behind the scenes"; and to her the Duke of Clarence's had seemed to have an individuality of its own. She would have known she was there, and nowhere else, if she had been led in blindfold; and she would carry away remembrance with her, though after to-day she would never come into the place again.

Her big dress basket stood against the wall, and presently she began putting things together, and packing them into it. Jameson could have been sent to do this work, but he had not the time.

He wants to go to the pole. He is convinced that a good part of the northwest grain can be taken to England via Hudson Bay.

Capt. Bernier believes in the successful navigation of Hudson's Bay as well as in the possibility of finding the North Pole. The steamer Arctic is still at Sorel, Que., and Capt. Bernier is uncertain whether he will command her on her coming trip.

He wants to go to the pole. He is convinced that a good part of the northwest grain can be taken to England via Hudson Bay.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Mothers Are Helped
THEIR HEALTH RESTORED

Happiness of Thousands of Homes Due to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Mrs. Pinkham's Advice.

A devoted mother seems to listen to every care of her, excepting the suffering that tells her to guard her health, and before she realizes it some derangement of the female organs has manifested itself, and nervousness and irritability take the place of happiness and amiability.

"Family trouble?" The words stung Winifred like needles. There was truth enough for such an excuse; nevertheless, she would not make it. "I think I should prefer," she said, looking him straight in the eyes, "that the real truth should be told."

He flushed under her look, and dropped the long lashes of which he was as pride as if he had been a professional beauty. "At least, Miss Gray," he retorted, sharply, "I have spared your feelings as much as possible. I have seen you myself. I have talked with you as one friend talks to another, and—"

A sudden knock at the door seemed to strike the next word from his mind. There was distress in his handsome face as he said: "Come in."

Something told Winifred that it was Macaire who stood outside the door, demanding admittance, so that when he entered he had not, at all events, the satisfaction of meeting her. He knew that George Anderson had sent for the girl, and the hour of the appointment; probably he had been with the actor manager when the letter was written, and he had come purely for the pleasure of beholding the destruction he had wrought.

But at the sight of the hideous red face and the pale eyes which though the suering lips were silent, said to her, "I warned you what you had to expect, and I have kept my word," Winifred's spirit rose.

A bright color sprang to her cheeks. Her eyes were like stars. Never had she been so beautiful. She had faced the door as Lionel Macaire opened it, and she made the one glance she gave tell of what had been given merely because it was unavoidable.

"Good morning and good bye, Mr. Anderson," she said, her head held high, and a proud smile on her lips. Then, drawing her dress aside that it might not be desecrated by touching the millionaire, she swept by him without a look.

"By 'Jove," she thought she heard Geo. Anderson say, as the door closed behind her.

As she went down the stairs from the office, the blood throbbing in her temples seemed to blind her eyes to the reddish mist. Hardly had she seen that she did, she forced her way through labyrinths of passages to the region of the dressing room, and shut herself into her room. There the half-fallen on the little wicker sofa, where she had nestled so cozily many a time. She had loved the very smell of this theatre—the queer, indefinable odor made up of gas and mustiness, which is like nothing in the world outside a theatre, or even further in front of "behind the scenes"; and to her the Duke of Clarence's had seemed to have an individuality of its own. She would have known she was there, and nowhere else, if she had been led in blindfold; and she would carry away remembrance with her, though after to-day she would never come into the place again.

Her big dress basket stood against the wall, and presently she began putting things together, and packing them into it. Jameson could have been sent to do this work, but he had not the time.

He wants to go to the pole. He is convinced that a good part of the northwest grain can be taken to England via Hudson Bay.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier believes in the successful navigation of Hudson's Bay as well as in the possibility of finding the North Pole. The steamer Arctic is still at Sorel, Que., and Capt. Bernier is uncertain whether he will command her on her coming trip.

He wants to go to the pole. He is convinced that a good part of the northwest grain can be taken to England via Hudson Bay.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to command of the Arctic to Hudson's Bay to carry supplies to polar posts, and has been through Hudson's Straits.

Capt. Bernier is the man who wanted the government to back an expedition to discover the pole. He was sent instead to Messrs. L. Eaton & Co.

Duly instructed, will sell at their Auction Mart on

Wednesday, Nov. 15th at 2 p.m., a quantity of

Household Furniture

Comprising: Dominion Organ, Quartered
Oak Bed-room Suite, "Oak" Cleval
Tables, Solid Oak Sideboards, 2 Oak Tables, Ash Bed-room Suite, Walnut Bedroom Suite, Extension Table, Writing Desk and Book Case, Ebonized Hall Stand, Single and Double Bed-rooms, Bedsteads, 200
Drawers, Rocking Chairs, Oak Dinner
Wagon, Range (nearly new), Walnut
Kitchen, Cupboard Pictures, etc., etc.
Also for sale, by private treaty, FIRST CLASS ORGAN by DOHERTY, double klavier, 26 stops, pedals and all, in perfect order, suitable for small church or chapel.

The Auctioneers, L. EATON & CO.

Big Auction

I am instructed to remove to Salerooms, 77-79 Douglas street, and to sell without reserve,

Friday, 17th, at 2 P.M.
ELEGANT AND COSTLY.

FURNITURE

SPLENDID CARPETS and Rugs, Cottage, Piano, etc.

Particulars later.
This is a rare chance for parties just finishing.

Hardaker, Auctioneer

SUDDEN DEATH.

Methodist Episcopal Bishop of Chicago
Passed Away at Keypoint, N. Y.

(Associated Press.)

New York, Nov. 13.—Stephen M. Morris, Methodist Episcopal bishop of Chicago, died last night at Keypoint, N. Y., of paralysis of the heart. The information was conveyed in a telegram received to-day by the Methodist book concern of this city.

THE STOCK MARKETS.

(Published by F. W. Stevenson.)

Chicago, Nov. 13.

Wheat—
December 85% 80% 85 82%
May 88% 88% 87% 87%

Corn—
December 41% 44% 44 44%
May 45% 45% 44% 45%

Oats—
December 29% 26% 26% 29%
May 32% 32% 31% 32%

Pork—
January 12.65 12.65 12.55 12.60
May 12.77 12.50 12.75 12.77

Liverpool wheat steady; December 5s higher at 7s. 6d.; March 5d. higher at 7s.

New York, Nov. 13.

Atchison 80% 82% 82 82%
B. & O. 100% 100% 100% 100%
B. R. T. 74% 74 72% 73%
C. P. R. 120% 120% 100% 100%

Eric 47% 47% 46% 46%

Ill. Central 175% 175% 175% 174%

L. & N. 147% 148 146 146%

Man. L. 162% 162% 162% 162%

Metropolitan 115% 116 114% 115%

Mo. Pacific 97% 98 96% 98%

N. Y. Central 148% 149% 147% 149%

STORY OF A ROYAL PRESENT.

The Emperor of Russia has agreed to tend to all his domestic duties in a most marvellous way. He not only supervises his children's lessons and amusements, but like many a father of the humble station, he always pulled out the milk teeth of his little ones with a strange, apropos, an amazing little stopper tool. The English governess was about to celebrate his birthday, and a pretty "birthday table" was prepared for her by the Empress, in regular German fashion, with presents from her little pupils and their parents. The gift of one of the little princesses was carefully done up in colored paper, with ribbon, and inscribed with his name. The parcel was the child's own doing, and on being opened it proved to be a little empty cardboard box. The Empress asked what was the meaning of this strange gift, and then learned from her little son that the box was to contain his first tooth, which the Emperor was to pull out for him that very afternoon. The child gave his governess what he regarded as the greatest treasure he had to bestow, and the Empress kindly had it set for her in a gold bangle.

For Relief of Jews.

New York, Nov. 13.—The American fund for the relief of the pillaged Jews in Russia based on acknowledgments made on the national relief committee this morning is estimated at $200,000. It is hoped to raise $1,000,000.

Fun at Ottawa.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The Hebrews of Ottawa are co-operating with their brethren on the North American continent to establish a fund for the relief of persecuted Hebrews in Southern Russia.

PECULIAR POISONING CASE.

Thomas Jackson Is Dead and His Wife
Is in Critical Condition.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Thomas Jackson died yesterday and his wife is dying this afternoon as the result of a peculiar poisoning case. Jackson took a dose of salts in a glass of bottled beer on Sunday at breakfast, and his wife is supposed to have drunk the beer without salts. Both immediately became violently ill. When the doctors arrived they had only one stomach pump and Jackson insisted on its being used, to save his wife's life. The inquest has been adjourned for a week. The mother-in-law of Jackson, Mrs. Jones, was in the house at the time and declined to drink beer. The police are making an investigation and the contents of Jackson's stomach are being analyzed. Symptoms indicate strychnine poisoning.

CANCER ITS CAUSE AND CURE?

Send 6 cents (stamps) for this little book that tells of the wonderful cures made by our painless home treatment.
D. V. STOTT & JURY, Bowmansville, Ont.

Dermyl

An elegant skin lotion. This preparation is becoming popular as a remedy for chapped hands, face or lips, any irritation of the skin. See our display in Yates street window. Ask for free sample.

John Cochrane, Chemist

N. W. Cor. Yates and Douglas Sts

NEW AND NICE

DATES, in One Pound Packets, each 10c.

SMYRNA WASHED FIGS, One Pound Baskets, each 20c.

2½-INCH LAYER FIGS, Per Pound 20c.

MALAGA TABLE RAISINS, Per Pound 25c.

Our Stock is now complete for you at Christmas Puddings.

The West End Grocery Company.

FAMILY CROCERS.

PHONE 88

42 GOVERNMENT STREET.

TRUCE IN THE RAILWAY FIGHT

GREAT NORTHERN MEN LEAVE DISPUTED GROUND

C. P. R. Still Holds Approach to Proposed
Tunnel—Police Court Charges Withdrawn.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—A dispatch from Midway says:

"To the accompaniment of a fusillade of revolvers, shotguns and rifles in the hands of Great Northern employees, the latter's fighting crew, yesterday afternoon withdrew from the disputed land at Midway. One hundred and seventy Great Northern men were taken from the disputed ground and returned to work on the V., V. & B. grades situated from half a mile to three miles from that point. The withdrawal of the Great Northern men left the C. P. R. with one hundred and eighty in possession, and they still hold the ground. The Great Northern has, however, recommended work on the driving of its eight hundred and fifty-foot tunnel, the eastern approach to which lies on C. P. R. ground. It was this approach that caused all the trouble.

The withdrawal of the Great Northern forces is the result of a conference between Chief Engineer Kennedy and A. H. MacNeill, counsel for the V., V. & B. Those who issued instructions to Kennedy to hold the tunnel thought that this approach was covered by the order which Mr. MacNeill secured last week in the Vancouver Supreme court. But it was found that the writ of possession for the tunnel of Sheriff Wood was for ground which the C. P. R. did not own. When it was discovered that the Great Northern had no writ covering the tunnel approach it withdrew and will institute expropriation proceedings.

This morning the C. P. R. withdrew all the men with the exception of twenty and the trouble is now over. Charges in the police court, on both sides, have been withdrawn and the Canadian Pacific is now holding the approach to the tunnel to the inconvenience of the Great Northern."

HEAVY-WEIGHT CHAMPIONSHIP.

Gus Rhulin Will Claim Title If His Challenge Is Not Accepted Within Six Weeks.

(Associated Press.)

The "Frisco Kid" Visited the Palace of the Elysee—Will Go to Brussels.

(Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 13.—Fred. Raik, the "Frisco Kid," a proud boy, having blacked the name of M. Louhet. He arrived at the door of the Palace of the Elysee with his box of trophies under his arm and explained to any man who desires to take up his challenge and that if at the end of six weeks this offer remains unaccepted he will claim the heavyweight title."

THE ODESSA OUTRAGES.

One Hundred and Fourteen Jews Have Succumbed to Their Injuries.

(Associated Press.)

Odesa, Nov. 13.—The death list of Jews, victims of the recent outrages here, has been increased by 114 with the addition of 100 more.

Mourning the Jewish clergy has decided not to celebrate any marriage for a month. Chief Rabbi Krops, who has been very unpopular, has resigned.

For Relief of Jews.

New York, Nov. 13.—The American fund for the relief of the pillaged Jews in Russia based on acknowledgments made on the national relief committee this morning is estimated at $200,000.

It is hoped to raise $1,000,000.

Fun at Ottawa.

(Special to the Times.)

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—The Hebrews of Ottawa are co-operating with their brethren on the North American continent to establish a fund for the relief of persecuted Hebrews in Southern Russia.

PECULIAR POISONING CASE.

Thomas Jackson Is Dead and His Wife
Is in Critical Condition.

(Special to the Times.)

Vancouver, Nov. 13.—Thomas Jackson died yesterday and his wife is dying this afternoon as the result of a peculiar poisoning case. Jackson took a dose of salts in a glass of bottled beer on Sunday at breakfast, and his wife is supposed to have drunk the beer without salts. Both immediately became violently ill. When the doctors arrived they had only one stomach pump and Jackson insisted on its being used, to save his wife's life. The inquest has been adjourned for a week. The mother-in-law of Jackson, Mrs. Jones, was in the house at the time and declined to drink beer. The police are making an investigation and the contents of Jackson's stomach are being analyzed.

Symptoms indicate strychnine poisoning.

CANCER ITS CAUSE AND CURE?

Send 6 cents (stamps) for this little book that tells of the wonderful cures made by our painless home treatment.
D. V. STOTT & JURY, Bowmansville, Ont.

FROM ENGLAND

Stilton and Gorgonzola Cheese

ALSO

Requefort and Swiss Cheese

ALL FRESH ARRIVALS

AT THE

Windsor Grocery Company,
Opposite Post Office. Government Street.

STEEL and IRON WIRE ROPES

We are the agents for the Clyde Patent Wire Rope Works Rutherglen, Glasgow. We carry a large stock for Logging, Ships' Riggings, etc.

WHOLESALE AND RETAIL.

Peter McQuade & Son, 78 Wharf Street,

KING GEORGE OF GREECE.

Pays Visit to King Edward—is Accompanied by Prince and Princess Nicholas.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 13.—King George of
Greece, accompanied by Prince and Princess
Nicholas of Greece, arrived in England to-day on a visit to King Edward, his brother-in-law. King George crossed the Channel on the English royal yacht, the Victoria and Albert, escorted by a squadron of British warships, and was met at Portsmouth by Prince Arthur of Connaught, who welcomed him in behalf of King Edward. King George subsequently proceeded to Windsor.

It is likely that King George will pay an official visit to London, and will be entertained at Guildhall by the Lord Mayor and corporation. This visit will probably be fixed for November 15th, and the King will return to Windsor on the evening of the same day.

The "Frisco Kid" is a famous black and white English champion of the heavyweight class.

He has not heard of this place, lying as it does in a long grassy depression, surrounded by beautiful trees and rocks, near the summit of the Burgeson mountain?

The walks about here are particularly beautiful, opening up a new view at every turn. Should the visitor care to prolong his walk and obtain a more extended view, he can go up to the electric elevator, which is one of the most extraordinary lifts on the continent.

Dr. Guglielminetti, of Paris, who was present at the inauguration of the electric elevator, said that the movement of the lift was so rapid that it was dangerous to erect a building of ropes as this.

Mr. Saunders has never been in Canada, and, like all Britons, who visit this country for the first time, he is struck by the magnitude and natural resources as well as its possibilities for great things. The modern methods of the merchants from ocean to ocean have greatly impressed him, and he predicts for Canada a splendid future. Mr. Saunders this morning called on Jas. Thomson, local manager of the Hudson's Bay Company, the agents for Messrs. Saunders & Co., in this country. He is a guest at the Driard.

REPRESENTS A BIG FIRM.

Managing Director of James Saunders &
Co., New in the City.

(Associated Press.)

LONDON, Nov. 13.—King George of
Greece, accompanied by Prince and Princess Nicholas, has been visiting the Palace of the Elysee—Will Go to Brussels.

(Associated Press.)

Paris, Nov. 13.—Fred. Raik, the "Frisco Kid," a proud boy, having blacked the name of M. Louhet. He arrived at the door of the Palace of the Elysee with his box of trophies under his arm and explained to any man who desires to